FIGHT BACK FOR BRITAIN

OUR Race and Nation is under attack! Coloured Immigrants are still swarming to our shores undercutting the wages of British workers and lengthening the dole queues.

'Positive Discrimination' ensures that in many cases Blacks and Asians are put before Britons in housing, education, welfare and jobs.

Many people now wonder why we fought two world wars. Surely not to become second class citizens in our own country?

The Banks rip us off by creating money out of nothing. Massive taxes and crippling interest rates have crushed the small businessman. The Stock Exchange is a parasite's paradise. The nation's leeches get rich overnight, without doing a stroke of honest work.

We have over 3½ million on the dole. Yet the Tories still import goods that can be made here. Viciously needed finance capital is exported daily.

The Common Market has destroyed our National Sovereignty.

Britain is littered with American Cruise Missile Bases. Reagan could involve us in a nuclear war in which we would have no interest in, or control over. Meanwhile, CND and the Reds want us to completely do away with ALL weapons!

Our people are housed in atrocious conditions. They live in crumbling Victorian houses, barrack-type housing estates or tower blocks.

Our brothers and sisters in Ulster are killed by the IRA - simply because they are Loyalists and wish to remain British.

Additionally, man no longer has any respect for mother nature or our wildlife. The Land Sea and Air is polluted daily by the greedy Capitalist system. Animals are hunted down for 'fun', experimented on, or are ritually slaughtered.

What Britain so desperately needs is a radical Nationalist movement dedicated to sweeping away all this misery, squalor and decay.

We need a Party that will put Britain and the British people first. We need an organisation that will fight for British freedom.

That Party is the National Front.

For only the NF calls for an immediate halt to immigration and proposes a humane policy of Repatriation.

Only the NF will tear down Britain's obscene Capitalist system and replace it with an honest economy based on the productivity of the British worker.

In our Britain, Workers Co-operatives would compete with small family firms. The craftsman and the small family farm would survive and prosper.

We will kick the Yanks - and their Cruise Missiles - out of Britain. We will build a strong, independent and truly British defence system.

We will completely wipe out the IRA. Then we can fight for Peace, Freedom and Social Justice in Ulster.

EDITORIAL No.62, January 1985.

Trying to Prevent Our Electoral Advance

THE CONSERVATIVES NOW appear quite determined to raise the deposit for candidates to contest Parliamentary elections, probably to £1,000. The reason for this is simple: the Conservatives are only capable of thinking in terms of money and they now believe that they have enough to buy Britain's democratic system and keep it for themselves.

The cost to a political party of contesting every seat at a general election would go up from about £95,000 to more than £600,000. Now the Conservatives are not very worried about this for it's not their own members who will have to find this additional cash. No, it's YOU the British public who are going to pay for most of it, no matter what you think of Mrs Thatcher.

You will pay for it directly in taxes which help to finance the Conservative and other 'establishment' parties through direct funding and you will pay for it indirectly when you buy goods in the shops. Last year company donations to the Conservatives nearly doubled to £2,780,000. Some of Britain's best known companies regularly donate large sums to the Tories. Allied-Lyons, Taylor Woodrow, Distillers, Trafalgar House and Marks and Spencer all gave £50,000 or more. Other substantial donors include: United Biscuits (£40,000), Rank (£40,000) and Rank, Hovis McDougal (£30,000).

It is also hardly a surprise that Kleinwort Benson, the merchant bankers, gave £30,000. Yes, the name is familiar, Kleinwort Benson made hundreds of thousands of pounds out of the sale of British Telecom.

The Labour Party aren't too worried either. Apart from their regular and substantial financial help out of your taxes, they also receive about £3,000,000 from the Trade Unions - perhaps your money again?

BUY BRITAIN'S DEMOCRACY

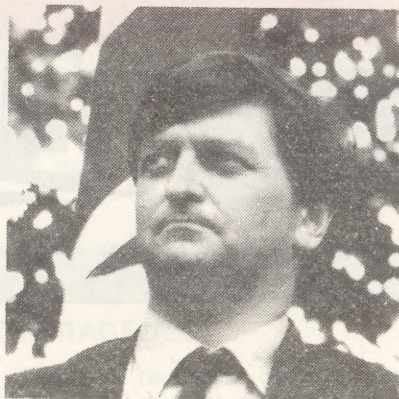

The Conservative government's decision to buy Britain's democracy which has been fought for with the blood of millions of our ancestors is cynically hypocritical. Smaller parties such as the Ecology Party have been campaigning vociferously without realising that they are simply incidental casualties in a battle being waged by the 'establishment' parties to hang onto their power and influence.

On several occasions quite senior politicians have declared that the real reason behind the latest move is to prevent any electoral advance by the National Front.

However the National Front recognised some time ago that moves like raising the deposits were inevitable and could be coped with if suitable precautions were taken in time.

The Conservatives are not even capable of imagining a political force which doesn't give way when an obstacle is put in the way or determines its values by standards other than financial cost. When they realise that the National Front is serious about achieving political power they will also realise that the forces of British Racial Nationalism simply cannot be stopped.

ANDREW BRONS STANDS DOWN AS NF CHAIRMAN

■ Andrew Brons, Chairman of the National Front 1980-84.

IT IS with deep regret that we have to announce that Andrew Brons has resigned from the position of Chairman of the National Front. He remains a member of the Party and we reprint extracts from his letter of resignation below.

Andrew Brons was persuaded to take over the Chairmanship in the dark days of early 1980. At that time the Party was fighting for its very existence: The Kavanagh clique had left the party less than one year earlier leaving a financial disaster behind them, the so-called Captain of the Ship, John Tyndall, had deserted to the nearest available raft.

The only person capable and prepared, albeit reluctantly, to take over the helm was Andrew Brons. His record in the Party, of fighting elections, of experience as Chairman of a Department and his political knowledge all made him ideal. His belief in the idea rather than the individual was an additional bonus.

Slowly but steadily, under his guidance, the Party was rebuilt. Once we were on an even keel and progressing as an organisation he would occasionally express his wish to resign from the Chairmanship to allow him to spend more time with his family. However he was persuaded to stay on. In late 1983 the final break with the past took place when Martin Webster was removed from all positions within the Party. Again Andrew was on hand to steer the Party through the problems consequent on Mr. Webster running straight to the Courts.

The 1984 AGM saw this final problem resolved and Andrew Brons now clearly feels that he can step down without in any way betraying the movement and he has expressed confidence in his colleagues determination and ability to carry on the fight.

GRATITUDE

The Party owes a tremendous debt of gratitude to Andrew Brons who was undoubtedly the best Chairman we have ever had and who has only stepped down at a time he is sure of the Party's future.

Ian Anderson has taken over as Temporary Acting Chairman pending a full election should that prove necessary. The one thing all members and supporters can be certain of is that with now a united Directorate the Party is well set for a full offensive in 1985.

ANDREW'S LETTER TO IAN ANDERSON

Dear Ian,

The immediate cause of my resignation is a family crisis, the details of which I have told you. However, I accepted the positions of Deputy Chairman in 1979 and Chairman in 1980 extremely reluctantly. I knew that they would place a strain on my marriage and family life with the constant travelling, telephone calls and correspondence. In the event, they caused far more problems than I anticipated and yet each time that I tried to vacate the position, there was a further crisis preventing me from 'rocking the boat' by resigning. I could see the effect of my remaining on my family life but I could do nothing. As an individual I would have liked to put my family before other things but as a Nationalist I had to place the Nation and the Party first.

There has been no time since occupying the position as opportunity for my resignation. The Party is at a peak and I can leave the Chairmanship with a clear conscience. My immediate colleagues, who have been far more responsible for our present position than I have been, are well placed to carry on without me.

There are all sorts of legal and administrative tangles ahead and I feel so completely drained that I cannot concentrate on those as well as provide for my children and remain among the leadership of the Party.

I have every confidence in my colleagues and I am certain that they will take the Party along the crucial steps to power.

Yours sincerely,
Andrew Brons.

FRONT STOP I.R.A. MARCH IN MOSTON

On Sunday 25th November the National Front held its largest regional march in the North West of England for several years. Over 150 NF members and supporters gathered in Moston for a march to oppose the IRA who were marching to commemorate the 'Moston Martyrs' - members of a gang of Republicans who murdered a British policeman in 1867.

and the action of loyalists in opposing the march, the IRA march was not allowed near the cemetery. Instead they were forced to drive the wreath in a car to the cemetery where it remained for about 10 minutes before being removed by NF supporters.

The NF was led by part of the North West of England Drum Corps and by a Union Jack flag party. It was warmly received by local Moston residents amongst whom NF leaflets had been distributed during the previous week, these leaflets explained why the NF was marching. A number of onlookers joined in singing loyalist songs and warmly applauded our marchers.

NF Schools Campaign

EDUCATION CHAIRMAN on Salford Council, Labour councillor, David Dow, 'boiled over with rage' (Salford Advertiser) when he heard that Manchester Young National Front had started leafletting schools in the area.

The YNF campaign consists of handing out the National Front's 'Young, British and Jobless' leaflet to give young people between the ages of 14 and 17 at Salford's schools an alternative view of Britain from that which they receive in the classroom where teachers are predominantly left-wing militants.

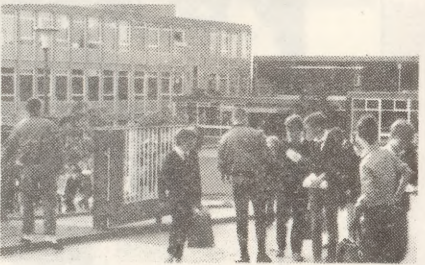

■ Bulldog on sale outside a Salford School.

John Burtenshaw, the Organiser of Manchester YNF said that the leaflets had been well received and more information about the National Front was in demand at Irwell Valley High School, Kersal High School and Broughton High School.

MULTI-RACIAL

To combat the increased activity of the National Front in the area, Salford Council, supported by the Tory 'opposition' has officially adopted a policy of positive discrimination to cover all its work and action. Councillor James King said, "We have a multi-racial and multi-cultural society and we must adapt our policies to reflect that".

Meanwhile the YNF have extended their campaign to include schools in Stretford and the area covered by the Manchester Central constituency.

Are you helping your National Front branch campaign against left-wing teachers?

LEIGHTON NF SCUPPERS CND POLL

BEDFORDSHIRE CND were less than happy with the results of a street ballot they conducted to find out whether people wanted a Trident Nuclear System.

For out leafletting while the CND canvassers were still having breakfast were John McSweeney, Chairman of Leighton Buzzard National Front, and his team of activists giving the Saturday shoppers of Leighton and Linslade the National Front's No to Cruise, No to CND, message.

'DREADFUL'

By the end of the day only 193 people had taken part in the ballot. A fearful CND press officer Maureen Brown said "I don't know why people didn't vote. The National Front spoiled everything, I think their policy of Britain building her own nuclear missiles is dreadful".

The local papers gave good coverage to the NF activity, widely reporting John McSweeney's comments "The campaign against CND was launched with a successful street sale of National Front News while hundreds of our leaflets were handed out to shoppers in the town centre. We were pleased with the public's response to our leaflets".

NEW LANDLORDS

HOT ON the trail of the announcement that Britain has 100 millionaires named Patel comes news that Indian-born businessman Mr. Mohan Murjani (who now lives in Britain of course) is knocking down his £1 million mock tudor mansion in St. John's Wood, London, and then replacing it with a replica of the building on the same site with a swimming pool installed in the basement.

On the same theme the Shadwell Estate, near Thetford, Norfolk, which includes Britain's two most famous stud farms, has been bought by Sheikh Hamden Bin Rashid Al Maktoum.

The undisclosed price is believed to be about £8 million. The 5,411 acre estate with stud farms, mansion, and 40 cottages had been in the family of Sir John Musker since 1898.

Finally on this line of thought, it's not really surprising that London hotels such as the Hilton and the Ritz have decided to expel the sellers of the traditional red poppy which recalls the dead of two world wars, from their foyers. How many London hotels are still owned by Britons? So what do the foreigners care about our war dead?

CLASSIC EXAMPLE

GUESS WHO was enjoying a 'Labour Friends of Israel' evening the other week? None other than Mrs. Thatcher's own financial guru Alfie Sherman and 'Mr. Clean-cut Conservative' himself Frankie Vaughan.

What a classic example of how race cuts across all political barriers.

TRIBUNE'S KOSHER

THE JEWISH MP for Walsall North, David Winnick, has been elected as chairman of the Tribune Group of Left-wing Labour MPs.

The group's vice-chairman is Ian Mikardo, MP for Bow and Poplar, he's Jewish too, while re-elected for another term as secretary was Sidney Bidwell, MP for Southall and he's Jewish as well!

BUM BANDIT

WOMEN are in fear walking the streets of South Birmingham because of a reign of terror by an Asian midget.

West Midlands' police have formed a special squad to catch the 'wee wog' who walks up behind his victims, stabs them in the buttocks with a knife and then runs away.

EXCELLENT WORK

A GANG of 33 drug smugglers, found guilty of handling 70 tons of narcotics, were hanged on November 30th in Zahedan, Iran.

IN HIGH PLACES

I SEE that the unprecedented step of changing the date of London's borough and district council elections in 1986 has been taken by the Home Secretary Leon Brittan.

The change has been made in response to representations made by the Board of Deputies of British Jews that the normal date, the first Thursday in May, that year falls during the Jewish passover festival. The elections will now take place on May 8th.

It's nice to have friends in high places isn't it?

HAMPSON'S LUCK

TORY MP Keith Hampson, of the straying hands in gay clubs fame, couldn't believe his luck when the charges against him were dropped after a hung jury.

Joe Pearce wasn't so lucky with his race act charges. After his hung jury he tried again, and when that was stopped because of procedure irregularities he was tried for a third time.

ENRICHING OUR CULTURE?

SIKH TEMPLE RESIDENTS NOT CONSULTED

WHITE RESIDENTS of Wolverhampton's Newhampton Road East were kept in the dark by their local council when a Sikh temple sought planning permission to expand.

Wolverhampton Planning Committee met in private to agree to the go-ahead for the Ramgarhia Sabha Temple. Angry residents were not allowed to attend the meeting because 'special matters relating to grants for the temple had to be discussed'.

A spokesman for the ratepayers of Newhampton Road said the matter should be reported to the local government Ombudsman. "It's a clear case of maladministration. The council have deliberately excluded us from discussion. The area is suffering enough already with the incessant wailing and chanting from the temple and traffic congestion is appalling on prayer nights. I don't know what it's going to be like when it's enlarged'.

ASIAN SCHOOL MEALS

BRITISH CHILDREN in Birmingham schools face the prospect of having to eat Asian food for their school meals.

For a week during November, pupils at Holly Lodge High School in Regent Road, Smethwick were used as guinea-pigs for an experiment to see if British school children could stomach Asian food. Deputy Headmaster, John Caine, said, "We are giving pupils a different dish each day. The most accepted dishes will become standard on the menus of schools in Sandwell". Mr. Caine said that the change was necessary to meet the needs of Birmingham's Asian population which made up over 30% of the children at Holly Lodge.

The introduction of such dishes as Rogan Josh and Kofta, which contain Halal meat, onto school menus will mean an increase in the number of animals that have to be ritually slaughtered to meet the requirements.

This is something that should cause growing concern to all animal welfare campaigners.

RELIGIOUS HARMONY?

TWO POLICEMEN and seven civilians were injured when Sikhs and Hindus fought a pitched battle during rival demonstrations at Gravesend in Kent during November.

Four hundred chanting Sikhs hurled stones, bricks and metal bars at a crowd of Hindus gathering at a temple in the town. A police spokesman said that the disturbance had been sparked off by the recent unrest in India.

Red Faces Over Black Imports

ARSENAL, ONE of the London clubs that led the way in introducing coloured players into British football must be rueing that they started dabbling in multi-racialism.

For the second time in twelve months the club's management is faced with the embarrassing task of trying to cover up the off-the-field antics of their West Indian imports.

In January of last year, 'star striker' Raphael Meade was charged, along with his brother Easton, of raping a girl at their home in Hornsey. Fortunately for the hierarchy at Highbury the Department of Public Prosecutions decided to drop the charges.

It is unlikely though that they will be so lucky in the case of 'star

COOL AS CARIBBEAN SUN

THE FINALS of Mr. Cool Great Britain 1984 took place last month at the Astoria, Roundhay Road, in Leeds.

The 15 contestants paraded before judges three times in sportswear, casual clothes and evening wear, with the highest marks being given for originality, composure, self-expression and something called the 'X-factor'.

NF News readers will be relieved to know that, as the picture shows, there wasn't a white face in sight.

Contribution to World History

BRITAIN IS to have its first 'cultural museum which will 'preserve and exhibit' the history of Britain's coloured immigrants.

The African Peoples' Historical Monument Foundation has announced that the £1.5 million centre will be built on an old Brixton site popular with the first coloured immigrants in the 50's and 60's.

The centre will comprise of archives, a library, a museum, a bookshop, a conference theatre and an exhibition gallery. The APHMF's chairman, Len Garrison, told the West Indian World, "This centre will enable visitors from all over the world to trace the history of the Black presence in Britain, and to see its development within the context of the Black contribution to world history!!!"

Death Penalty at Noose Lane

WILLENHALL TOWN Football Club, whose proud history spans back over seventy years, faces extinction if the local council gives the go ahead for a community centre to be built on their sports ground.

Proposals to open the West Indian club and Craft shop on the ground at Noose Lane has angered local residents and over a hundred attended a protest meeting to voice their opposition to the £30,000 project.

Willenhall's chairman Mr. Jack Williams said the West Indian Centre would mean the end of football at Noose Lane, while local planning officer Keith Williams confirmed the application had been received for a craft shop producing West Indian style goods for sale to the public.

● Meade

defender' Chris Whyte. He was arrested by Thames Valley police in September charged with theft and forgery. Whyte faces two counts of using a false cheque book, and charges of receiving stolen goods and falsely obtaining cash by deception.

One man breathing a sigh of relief over the whole affair is Crystal Palace chairman Ron Noades. The Selhurst club were in the process of buying Whyte for £90,000 but now the whole deal has been called off because of what Mr. Noades calls 'a personal matter'.

Palace fans also have something to celebrate. Their team maintains its white majority... only just though, six-five isn't it?

The luckless Meade was in trouble again on November 22nd when he was fined £100 and banned from driving for a year at Highbury Court, North London, for driving with excess alcohol. He had been stopped by police for speeding.

Patrick speaks at Oundle

BRITAIN MUST be regarded as a repressive society unless minority political opinions are discussed and represented in the mass media. Liberal/democratic views on tolerance are based on the proposition that men are individuals who can learn to hear and see and feel by themselves, to develop their own thoughts, to grasp their true interests, rights and capabilities. This is impossible in a society in which access to the media is restricted to establishment politicians."

● Patrick Harrington
A lively and interesting discussion followed his talk.

This was the theme of a talk given by Patrick Harrington at Oundle School, Peterborough. Oundle is a fee-paying school which regularly invites speakers from the world of politics. Recent talks have been given by Ken Livingstone and striking miners. About thirty young people attended the talk and a lively and interesting discussion followed.

FRONT DENY PEACE MEETING SABOTAGE

A PEACE meeting in Milton Keynes on October 9th addressed by Bruce Kent went ahead despite attempts to sabotage it.

CND supporters claimed that on the Monday prior to the meeting people, "believed to be members of the National Front", plastered 'meeting cancelled' notices over posters advertising the meeting.

Clive Wakley, a spokesman for Milton Keynes National Front denied the NF had been involved in the sabotage attempt but confirmed that a leafletting campaign had been started by NF branches and groups in Buckinghamshire to distribute 50,000 Anti-Cruise and Anti-CND leaflets.

PUPIL POWER

WHITE CHILDREN in Bradford are making a stand against the introduction of ritually slaughtered Halal Meat in their schools.

During the winter term youngsters from the Eccleshill Upper School protested in Harrogate Road, Bradford carrying a banner saying "Eccleshill pupils say Ban Halal Meat".

Bradford Council's Race Relations Officer Graham Mahoney said that the National Front had started recruiting in Bradford schools and that copies of National Front News were circulating during the demonstration in Harrogate Road.

National Front Chairman Andrew Brons told the Bradford Telegraph and Argus that the Young National Front, which accepts members from the age of 14, was active in the area and that many youngsters from Bradford had approached the NF with a view to joining.

A.G.M. ACHIEVES PARTY UNITY

THE 1984 ANNUAL General Meeting of the National Front took place in central London on Saturday 24th November. About 350 delegates from all over the United Kingdom attended and particularly welcome were the delegates who had travelled from Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

We were also pleased to welcome guests from Greece, Holland and Northern Ireland. The meeting was chaired by Paul Johnson who called the meeting to order promptly at 11 o'clock.

Early on the agenda were the reports from the Chairmen of Departments and the Party Auditor. Particularly encouraging were the reports from the Publicity Department, the Education and Training Department, the Administration Department and the Party Auditor. The main points of these reports were:

PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

- * Over one million leaflets distributed in 1984.
- * Most Branches now producing local leaflets.
- * Six new national leaflets were produced in 1984.
- * More new national leaflets available shortly.
- * Favourable publicity has been won concerning our industrial activities, our ecology policies and Patrick Harrington's fight.
- * The expansion of our printing facilities should increase the volume of propaganda considerably.

- * Nationalist Books has expanded dramatically.
- * The efficiency of all Party operations has been steadily increasing.
- * After surviving most of the year with a minimal staff so as to reduce debts, the staff is now expanding while debts continue to be cleared.

The first main resolution on the agenda was a Constitutional Resolution to enable elections of the Directorate to take place immediately at the AGM. After considerable debate this resolution was passed by 196 votes to 20 votes. Consequently Directorate elections took place immediately thereafter.

This year there were more resolutions submitted by members than for many years, however the professional chairmanship of Paul Johnson allowed all resolutions to be debated within the allotted time. Of particular note were the following resolutions:—

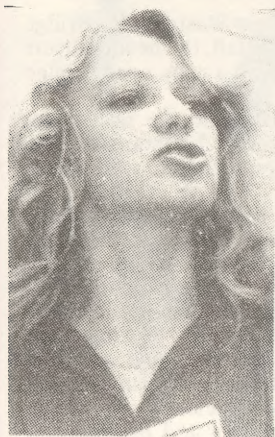

■ Young and not so young listen intently to the debates.

evicting tenants who they consider to be "racist". PASSED

ALBERT MARINER AWARD

After the main resolutions were completed, the Party Chairman, Andrew Brons was called on to make two presentations. For the first time the Albert Mariner Award for Bravery was to be awarded. The recipient was Patrick Harrington for his courageous fight to secure an education at the North London Polytechnic in the face of violent demonstrations.

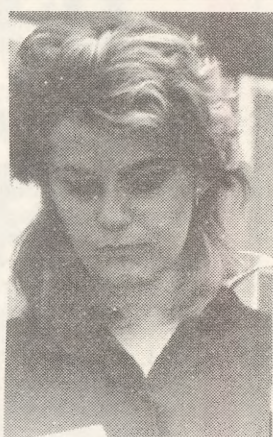

The second award was the Tom Lamb Branch Recruitment Cup. The runner up was West Suffolk Group, ■ Jackie Cook (Enfield) calls for more support for the NHS.

■ Member of the Directorate Paul Matthews makes a point of order during the miners debate.

■ Susan Inglis (Hounslow) argues for more privileges for NF members.

■ President of the National Front Blaise Wyndham speaks on the constitutional resolution.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING DEPARTMENT

- * The series of policy and ideological seminars in London was a great success.
- * A similar series is now being conducted in the Midlands.
- * A book covering the seminars is currently being produced.
- * The Nationalist Education Group has been formed to produce books reflecting a nationalist viewpoint, the first book has been typeset.

ADMINISTRATION

- * The level of Party debts has been significantly reduced.
- * Considerable investment in new machinery has taken place.

CULTURAL DIVERSITY: Recognising the cultural diversity of the native peoples of the British Isles the National Front supports and will encourage the preservation and revival of the Celtic languages and English dialects: PASSED

SEPARATION FOR LOYALIST PRISONERS: This AGM supports the campaign by Loyalist prisoners to gain separation from the Republican murderers with whom they are incarcerated in Magilligan, Long Kesh, Crumlin Road and other Northern Ireland prisons. PASSED

EVICITION OF RACIALISTS: This AGM urges the National Front to organise opposition against certain mainly London Councils, such as Newham, who now have a policy of with the winners being Central London Branch. The cup was presented to Ian Stuart, Central London Branch Organiser.

The traditional 'Dutch Auction' collection by Ian Anderson raised the excellent total of £2,243 which will be used to accelerate the various new projects in which the Party is engaged.

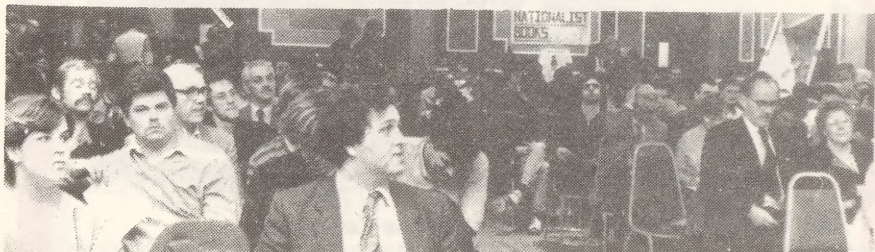

UNITED

The busy but enjoyable day was completed by the address from Andrew Brons who spoke of his pleasure in seeing the Party having built itself up from its precarious position in 1980 when he became Chairman through to its present position. He further expressed his full confidence in his Directorate colleagues who were now united in their determination to advance the cause of British Racial Nationalism.

The 1984 NF Annual General Meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

For a complete agenda, please send 50p to Nationalist Books, 50 Pawsons Road, Croydon, Surrey.

■ Conference listens to the case for the nationalisation of the betting industry.

THE MINERS' STRIKE

WHERE WE STAND....

Question: Does the National Front support the Miners' Strike?

Answer: The National Front believes that Britain should be entirely self-sufficient in its energy requirements and coal is the most important energy source in Britain. We believe that it is ridiculous to be importing coal and consequently we support the fight to keep pits open and we would want to see the coal mining industry expanded. If Britain is to be a sovereign nation we must be self-sufficient in our energy requirements. Even with nuclear energy the basic uranium has to be imported; a strong and expanded coal industry is essential to Britain's medium term energy needs.

Question: But don't some pits have to be closed if they are uneconomic?

Answer: Mrs Thatcher and Ian MacGregor, the American destroyer of British Steel and the current Chairman of the National Coal Board, both believe that British coal should only be mined if it can be done so more cheaply than importing coal. Under this argument Britain would have to close down our entire coal industry, if say, Uganda could mine and ship coal by using cheap labour, more cheaply to Britain than we could mine it ourselves with miners who earn a decent living wage. This is clearly nonsense, would cause a massive rise in unemployment and would be a national security disaster.

Question: But shouldn't we be able to compete with European coal?

Answer: All European coal industries are heavily government subsidised making this impossible even if desirable — much imported coal comes from Poland where trade unions are banned, strikers are shot and living standards held down. But in any case we still do not agree with importing foreign coal because this only benefits international capitalism and is not in the best interests of Britain and the British people.

Question: Does this mean you support Arthur Scargill?

Answer: No. Scargill is exploiting a proper and just industrial dispute for political ends. Scargill is a professed communist and we believe he is a national traitor. The Communist Party was opposed to Britain's membership of the Common Market. So is the National Front — clearly this does not make the National Front communist.

Question: Shouldn't there have been a secret ballot before the strike?

Answer: The National Front believes there should always be a secret ballot before any strike, however as we saw with the Common Market vote, ballots in Britain today are rigged by the establishment. In 1975 the pro-marketisers spent over £1 million on their campaign with much of it coming from business connections, the anti-marketisers spent barely a tenth of this. Throughout and before the miners' strike virtually every national newspaper has been opposed to the strike and television and radio have similarly presented slanted coverage.

Consequently the National Front does not accept the Common Market vote as valid and we do not believe that in Britain today any vote is a genuine reflection of the wishes of the people whether at a referendum, a general election or a trade union secret ballot.

We still support the concept of a secret ballot before striking but only when the corrupt and pernicious influence of Fleet Street has been smashed.

Question: What about picket line violence?

Answer: Individuals who commit acts of violence must be prosecuted whether they are miners, policemen or left wing activists. The reason for the violence by miners is that they are seeing their communities and their families destroyed by the Conservative Government. In frustration they are resorting to violence for the same reasons that White youngsters in frustration at seeing Blacks being put first in jobs resort to occasional racial violence.

In both cases they should fight the corrupt establishment politically by joining the National Front.

SNP's Asian Link!

EDINBURGH NATIONAL Front's weekly leafletting came under attack in 'The Student' the newspaper of Edinburgh University.

Student journalist, Iain Ferguson claimed the NF leaflet "With a thistle crowned with the NF logo" was an attempt to confuse the National Front with the Scottish National Party. SNP Press Officer, Chris McClean told 'The Student', 'The SNP is totally opposed to the propaganda of the NF".

On the ball to set the record straight was Paul Deacon of the National Front's Students' Association. He told 'The Student' of November 1st, 'The NF's Scotland's Future leaflet does not attempt to confuse the identity of the SNP with the NF but condemns the SNP for a nationalism that excludes the English but includes Pakistanis'.

THE LABOUR-controlled Hackney Borough Council is planning to recruit 136 extra staff, including nine drivers and cooks, who will be required to develop a 'culture-sensitive meals on wheels service'.

The council claims that the new jobs are needed to alleviate social stress among the borough's black and ethnic minority communities which make up a third of the population.

UNDER ATTACK BUT KENT NF STANDS FIRM!

THE GROWTH OF the National Front in Kent during 1984 has led to both the establishment and local left-wing organisations mounting a joint attack on the party, aiming to discredit it and warn-off any would-be supporters.

Their campaign, involving the suppression of free speech, physical violence and attack after attack on the NF in the local papers, should have caused no end of problems for the Kent units of the National Front, but that has not been the case. Under the guidance of Regional Organiser, Paul Johnson, the Front has 'fought back', answering the outrageous smears in the media by well thought out letters and press statements.

The 'Keep Maidstone White' march held in July saw scenes reminiscent of the NF marches of 1977 and 78 as organised left-wing thugs tried physically to stop the Front from marching.

When the violence of Reds failed to stop the Front it was left to the establishment to try to use the law to smother the growth of the NF. At the November meeting of Thanet Council in Margate councillors turned down an application from the South-East Kent Branch of the National Front to hire council-owned halls for their meetings. Both NF and left-wing agitators packed the public gallery during the noisy debate, cheering and jeering the councillors as they spoke from their respective viewpoints. After the council had refused the NF's application a smoke bomb was thrown into the council chamber causing panic and mayhem amongst the councillors.

BLAMED

The next day the Kent papers blamed the NF for the incident despite the fact that the National Front delegation had left the building a FULL FIVE MINUTES before the smoke bomb was thrown. Paul Johnson told the Isle of Thanet Gazette, of Gewirtz and his associates.

OUTRAGEOUS

Finally, in the weeks before Christmas, came the most outrageous and vicious attack on the Kent National Front. In an interview on Radio Invicta on November 27th and 28th, Jack Collins, Secretary of the Kent National Union of Mineworkers and Malcolm Pitt, the N.U.M.'s Area President accused the National Front of attacking the homes of working miners in Deal in an effort to discredit the N.U.M.

Kent Regional Council went into immediate action to counteract the monstrous claims. Letters were sent the very day of the interview to the Chief Constable of Kent calling for an immediate and thorough police investigation into the matter and to the N.U.M.'s Dover headquarters calling for any evidence linking the NF with attacks on the homes of working miners to be handed immediately to the police. The Regional Council also sent an open letter to all working miners in the area acknowledging that 'Working miners were only acting as their conscience demands' although confirming that 'The National Front supports the objectives of the striking miners'. The letter concluded 'We see coal as very much the fuel of the future and as being of vital importance to the future of Britain as an independent sovereign nation. However this does not mean we support the rule of mob violence. The attacks on the homes of working miners and their families during the hours of darkness are the actions of cowards and thugs. We in

'A Growing Number of People in Kent are Turning to the National Front'

"without a doubt the incident was designed to discredit the National Front and was perpetrated by our political opponents many of whom were present at the meeting".

On the council decision itself, Mr Johnson said the Front would defy the undemocratic ban by use of simple deception, "The local branch will instruct its members to book council meeting halls under their own names for a private function. These private functions will in fact be meetings of the National Front. We do not wish to defy the law but we are willing to fight for our democratic rights of public assembly and public free speech" he told the Thanet Times.

DELIBERATE LIES

At the same time as the NF was being denied its democratic rights by Thanet Council it was being accused of being anti-trade union in the Kentish Gazette. Local trade unionists together with Jacob Gewirtz of the Jewish Board of Deputies writing from Woburn House in London tried to smear the Front with a series of deliberate lies about the National Front and its union attitude. The next week's issue of the paper however, carried letters from a number of Front officials and supporters pointing out the errors the National Front are neither of these".

These unprecedented attacks on the National Front from all quarters is because a growing number of people in Kent are turning to the National Front with its policies of racial nationalism as Britain's last hope against the growing ravages of unemployment and all its symptoms. Proof of this was that for the first time since 1978 the Kent Region was required to lay on a 56 seater coach to ferry its activists to the National Front's annual Remembrance Day March through Whitehall.

MAY ELECTIONS

November also saw the publishing of 'Invicta' a local Kent patriot leaflet geared for next May's council elections. Elections where the Kent Regional Council envisage fielding candidates for the district council elections are Dover, Dartford, Gravesend, Swanley, Sevenoaks, Maidstone and Rochester.

Kent National Front have proved that to be a growing region for the NF you must be able to fight back when attacked by political opponents. The British people admire those who stand up and are prepared to be counted for what they believe in. To that end Kent National Front are a fine example.

WITH DIGNITY AND WITH PRIDE

ABOUT 1500 NATIONAL Front members and supporters took part in the annual Remembrance Day Parade in central London on Sunday 11th November.

This was, without doubt, one of the best-presented ever marches by the National Front. The marchers who were a great credit to the movement largely kept in formation, this being distinctly helped by the two drum corps which took part.

The London Drum Corps demonstrated its ever increasing size and expertise, while many members were surprised to see the tremendous strides made by the North West of England Drum Corps in the short period since they re-formed.

The Official Flag Party also demonstrated the benefits of the training sessions it has received, while for the first time ever a second Ladies Flag Party took part, which, as well as pleasing most NF members, clearly made a great impression on the large crowds watching.

The march from Victoria was headed by the two wreath layers, Tom Mundy from Slough and Peter Barker from Rochdale. At the Cenotaph the wreaths were laid, one to remember the British war dead, the other to remember the war dead from Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Rhodesia and South Africa.

SERVICE

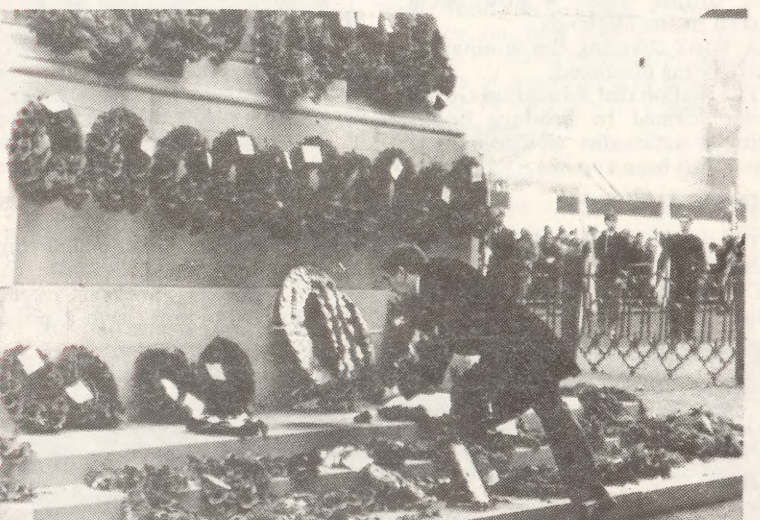

A non-denominational Christian service was then conducted by Paul Matthews. After the service the march was re-formed and marched across Westminster Bridge past County Hall, the headquarters of the GLC, to a rally near Jubilee Gardens.

The speakers at the rally were Nick Griffin, Chairman of the Publicity Department, who spoke about the recent increase in oppression and the pending Race Act charges; Joe Pearce, Chairman of the YNF, who spoke of the betrayal by modern politicians of the memories of our ancestors; and Andrew Brons, NF Chairman, who spoke of the great sacrifice of recent generations being wasted and rendered useless by the drive to multiracialism and internationalism.

The rally was chaired by Ian Anderson, NF Deputy Chairman, who also conducted the collection which raised an excellent £773 compared with £345 the previous year.
